Social/Behavioral Science:

ECON 2010-804 Honors Principles of Microeconomics (Group Contract) 3 cr.

Group Contracts do not require proposal forms. Honors students attend the regular section at the time indicated.

Honors students would read the most current edition of "The Economics of Public Issues" by Miller, Benjamin, and North. Students will identify a similar paradox as those discussed in the book and write, produce, and host a brief podcast episode solving their paradox. Each episode will include at least one short interview with a TN Tech economist and will be used in an "Everyone Loves Economics" Honors Podcast Series for the campus and general public.
